ABOUT

I lead end-to-end delivery of high-impact technology and AI transformation projects, bridging technical teams and business outcomes as a trusted client partner. As founder of Mottum Analytica, I structure and ship AI, cloud, and data engagements — from UNDP-backed prototypes to enterprise GTM — combining a data-driven mindset with hands-on delivery. I thrive in builder environments where I can own the client relationship, manage risk, and turn strategy into measurable ROI.
